

FARE's Teal Pumpkin Project® - a wonderful campaign that many neighborhoods support. The Teal Pumpkin Project raises awareness of food allergies and promotes a safer, happier Halloween by encouraging households to make non-food treats available so that trick-or-treaters who need to avoid candy – due to food allergies or other reasons – can fully participate. Households can show they are participating by placing a teal pumpkin in front of their home.

Last year, households around the world participated in the Teal Pumpkin Project. This year, we hope you will join in supporting this fantastic initiative! Visit tealpumpkinproject.org to learn more.

This Halloween, teal is the new orange. We encourage you to make trick-or-treating safer for kids with food allergies. Non-edible goodies are always a good choice. Try some of these for less candy and more fun for your trick or treating little ones:

Stickers, Tattoos, Playdough, Stickers, Pencils, Erasers, Vampire teeth, Spider Rings, Mini-bubbles, Hot Chocolate Mix, Apple Cider Mix, Juice Boxes, Glow Sticks, Bookmarks, and Pretzels.
